R UND GOLD MINE STRIK!

WHITE LABOUR'S CLAIMS.

A LONG STRUGGLE ANTICIPATED.

LONDON, January 10.

The strike on the Rand which commenced last night was declared by the strikers to be a struggle by white labour to avert its annihilation. The Chamber of Mines on the other hand asserts that failing revision of wage rates and working conditions so as to permit the employment of more semi-skilled coloured labour, 24 out of 39 of the producing gold mines must close down.

The difficulties of the gold mines are accentuated by the strike of coal miners and the temporary cessation | properly be discussed by the Genoa conference. of diamond mining by the De Bezrs and Kimberley as a result of depression. A lengthy struggle is anticipated. JOHANNESBURG, January 10.

The strike is in full operation in all the gold mines in which 24,000 men are affected, also at the Victoria Falls power station where, however, there is still sufficient labour to produce one-third of the usual power for essential services.

The main point at present seems to be the question of agreement on a fixed ratio of white and coloured men. This is likely to loom large in the future.

CANNES CONFERENCE HITCH.

TANGER ANOTHER ROCK FOR THE ENTENTE.

CANNES, January 10. It is learned from a well-informed French source The Dail, on the motion of Mr. Collins, elected Mr. that the following is the scheme for reparations partition :- Germany must pay 1,750,000,000 gold marks in kind of which Britain will take 100,000,000, Italy 240 000,000, Belgium 125,000,000, France 1.250,000,000, and the remaining allies 28,000,000. Of the one Sixty-five De Valera supporters left the Chamber milliard gold marks paid last July, Belgium will take 519,000,000, Britain 450,000,000, and Italy 31,000,000. Of the cash payable by Germany in 1922 In moving the election of Mr. Griffith as president Britain is credited with 189,000,000. The rest goes to

FRENCH CABINET HOSTILE.

A hitch appears to have occurred in the reparations agreement and discussions regarding it have had to be postponed until to morrow pending receipt of a reply from the French Cabinet who are reported to be displaying hostifity to the agreement. This view is support led by French newspapers, one of which declares that the Treaty of Versailles is being cut up piecemeal in a carnival setting to the strains of a jazz band.

ITALY'S WISHES IGNORED. It is understood that Italy wishes inclusion in the Franco British pact, the draft of which has been telegraphed to London for the approval of the Cabinet, but it is not likely that her wishes will be granted since the The Duke of York to day out the first turf at the object is to guarantee France against German aggression,

The Chinese and Japanese conversations regarding Shantung will be resumed to morrow. This is undoubtedly due to the good offices of Mess's Balfour and Hughes. It is expected that discussion will embrace other problems and if agreement is reache thereon, it is hoped the railway question may then be arranged.

Among the matters still unsettled is the disposal of the Shantung salt mines from which Japan decires to continue to ship sait under some form of Chinese supervision. On the other hand China is believed to desire 'that the mines shall be treated similarly to those in other parts of China.

WHIG SOCIETY.

A WOMAN BYRON SCORNED.

Brilliant letters of "two of the greatest women in the political society of their day" are given an effective setting by Mabell Countess of Airlie in "In Whig Society, 1775 1918," which is published by Hodder and Stoughton (158).

The two women are Elizabeth Viscountess Melbourne, the mother of Victoria's beloved Prime Minister, and her daughter Emily Lamb, Countess Cowper, who later became the wife of the Prime Minister, Lord Palmerston. Their joint lives covered just over a century, from the year 1752 to 1869, and witnessed a complete social transition. Lady Melbourne stands out as a dominant figure. She was both loved and feared. A woman of amazing talents, she enjoyed the close friendekip of the Prince Regent, was the firm ally of Charles James Fux, and which centred in Holland House. Married to a man who was unworthy of her. Lady Melbourne found a passionate interest in shaping the careers of her children, and particularly that of her second son William, the luture Prime Minister.

TWO PROPOSALS. For years all Lady Melbourne's hopes were threatened with shipwreck.

William's domestic life was extremely unhappy. He lost intere t in politics, stayed in Ireland when Parliament was sitting, and neglected his constituency. His wife was Carcline, only daughter of the Earl of Bessborough. The first time William Lamb asked when my letters tire or when you her to morry him she refused, "because dislike willing only tell t uth-I can intimate history of Georgian times. her temper was so violent." But bear anything but suspense." Yet when he asked her a second time " her lafter far the kindest he ever wrote, love conquered her judgment." Her even more professing, than the one first instinct had been the right I showed you, one I would hardly one. Their life was one long quarrel like to show, so full of such assurances with brief reconciliations. William | -saying I must be his; he could not, kept silence, but of her husband Lady would not live much longer away-Caroline complains to her confidanto, I say, niter this letter I never received Lndy Morgan:

INTERPORT GOLF.

SOME SHANGHAI NOTES.

The following is from the  $N_{c}$ - $C_{c}$ Daily News anont the forthcoming visit of the Shanghai Interport Golf team to Hongkong:-This month the Shanghai Golf Club is to make another attempt to bring back the challenge cup from Hongkong, where it has been reposing for a few y are past. It was thought that the team sent down last year would have stood a good chance of winning, but its performance on the day of the encounter failed to come up to expectations. The five constituting the team on that occasion were R. P. Roberts J. B. Ferrier, Cryt. J. Dewar, Col. Mair Johnson and W.J. Hawkings. The conditions are that three best scores out of five count for the competition, and a year ago the three to come in for Shanghai Roberts Ferrier and Hawkings. combined scores strokes more than Hongkong. There is no doubt that Fanling is a thoroughly difficult course for a stranger, and its, greens are apt to give players from a place such as Shanghai considerable amount of trouble. Even so the performance of Shanghai fell much below that of Hongkong, and it has been recognized that it will require almost the strongest local team to carry off the cup. This year, on paper at least, Shanghai is in a position to send to Hongkong a stronger combination. At present six names are mentioned-J B. Ferrier, E. I. M. Barrett, C. T. Beath, K. M. Camming, P. Peebles and probably R. P. Roberts. The last mentioned at the time of writing is not quite certain, but in view of the excellence of the performance be give at Fanling a year ago it is to be hoped that, it will be possible for him to travel. As only five men are allowed to play in the match, this gives us (m) over, but there seems no good reason why all ex should, not go for a reserve is always an assent in cases of this kind. There is also a chance that Capt. Dawnr, may also go in his capacity as Captain of the Club The team leaves for Hongkong or the 10th instant by the Empress of

The onus therefore rested with the defendants, who had not been sufficiently careful to preserve the law. -

C.E M.S. CONCERT.

A CAPITAL PROGRAMME.

Arranged by Mr. Temple Bevan M.C., a capital concert was given at the Cathedral Hall last night to mark the opening of the Church of England Men's Society's 1922 session.

Mr. Harry Ore whose popularity as a pianist has long been assured was one of the principal contributors to splendid programme of vocal and instrumental items. His pieces last night included Chopin's Preludes and Scherzo, C.-minor. With Miss Vyvie Young he was responsible for two charming duets—Dvorak's Slavonic danse and Greig's Norwegian dence. A captivating item was the instrumental trio furnished by the Misses Vyvie, Ruby and Rosebud Young. Their two excellently executed numbers were "At Evening" (Baches) and "Minuet", a piece composed by Mr. Harry Ore. Mr. Van Taeck Tra Kranen won well deserved applause for his pleasing violin solos and some attractive vocal offerings were provided by a male quartette consisting of Messrs. Best, Haywood, Middleton and Haggah

The second is the unreasonableness of the public which may be sceptical about divine care; for individual sparrows, but expects a godlike omniscience to play on its individual correspondence. The third; is the shortage of space.

The first is not peculiar to letter sorters. Peculiar finds in the letter boxes, such as powder puffs, suggest that people who went to post letters did something else with them. They had the puff in their hand. There was the box yawning for it. In it went. Perhaps the lady dabbed her | nose with the letter she meant to post, dropped it in her vanity bag, and afterwards wondered how it came there. The sorting and re-sorting of letters that goes on, as a check, is not easy to describe in words. Speed and accuracy are aimed at, because the public expects both. Roughly speaking, it is a well-organized system of division and subdivision. The minds of the men who do it have to become by training something like the mind of an expert planist, who has no time to stop to think just where on the keyboard he must place his fingers There is a system of fines as an incentive to reasonable care, and there are subsequent checks where possible. It is practically impossible for a registered letter to be lost. An insured letter gets more care than it can possibly be worth. But the really impressive thing is the system by which so few ordinary letters go astray.

The two big divisions are inward and outward mails. No inward letter has any business on the section of floor reserved for the outgoing ones, and vice-versa. Parcels have their own place, and are a special bother, which we need not discuss. The incoming mail—say 200 bags—is checked bag by bag. Then the bags are emptied into huge troughs for first sorting, which consists in a special separation in classes. 2 15 p m.— These classes are suldivided by other experts, and so finally ground.—E. IMPORTANT ARTICLES.

Gradually, and as these rules are getting better understood by the business community, they are finding favour in commercial, shipping and insurance circles. The rules have been very clearly drawn up, and in this connection, it should be stated that the chairman of the Maritime Law Committee of the International Law Association, under whose auspices the rules were drafted, is the President of our Admiralty Court.

The most important articles of these rules are No. 3, which deals with responsibilities and liabilities, and No. 4 which deals with the rights equipped and supplied. and immunities. Article 3 provides

ARRESTED MAN PLEADS MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Inspector Blackman charged a Chinese before Magistrate Wood this morning with having stabbed another in the abdomen in the course of a street fight in Wanchai on January 3.

According to the Inspector, the fight took place in Swatow Lane, and neveral witnesses, including two detectives and a district watchman, who were some 30 paces away at the the time, saw the accused or top complainant. The latter called out that he had been stabbed, and the accused bolted. The detectives arrested him. He threw away a dagger in the chase, but it was recovered from the drain.

Mr. C. II. Lyson who appeared for the defence, suggested mistaken identity.

Inspector Blackman said that while the complainant coul I not identify the defendant, the police could produce several (witnesses to testify that he was the man whom they saw fighting with the complainant

Mr. Lyson asked for a remand. Inspector Blackman said that the complainant was now out of hospital. His injury had not been as serious as at first thought, and he had made appid recovery. He suggested that the charge might be reduced to one of common assault. The Magistrate refused on the ground that a dangerous weapon had been used, and gave a remand until Friday after-

Three unemployed American seamen, Eric Wood H. Cardiff and Ernest Newhall were charged before Magistrate Wood this morning, with having stowed away from Manila by the s.s. "Pinctree State" which arrived in port at 4 p.m. yesterday.

The fourth officer of the ship, Mr. Hampson, said that the defendants were discovered on board when the ship was one day out of Manila, on January 9, when they gave themselves up.

Wood told the Magistrate that he had previously been on Loard to look for work and was given something to do. It was their object to work their passage back home.

MUCH BANDAGED MAN CHARGED

His head in a mass of bandages, a Chinese appeared before Magistrate Wood this morning charged on two counts with armed robbery on board boats in the harbour. The inspector eaid that the first charge related to a case already reported in the papers. On January 6, a man engaged a rowing boat near the M.B.K. coal shed in Yaumati to take him out to lighter lying in Yaumati Bay. When some little distance from the lighter, the boat was boarder by a man from another rowing boat. The second man covered the mistress of the boat with a revolver while the first stole a pair of bangles worth $33, and $5 in money. On the second count, said the Inspector, the accused was charged with the theft of two quilts and a jacket from a cargo boat on January 9. In this instance the man was seen by the boatmen who gave him a severe thumping and then handed him over to the police. The case was remanded for a week.

The manager of a prominent Chin se shipping company who was approached on the subject to-day said there had been no concerted action as yet on the part of the shipping companies. His personal opinion was that there would have to be concessions on both sides and that the men's present demands were unreasonable. The position is understood now to be that a final note will be sent to the shipping companies and failing a satisfactory outcome of that there will be a general strike. Arrangements have been made for strike relief and it looks at present as though they may be needed.

. All the way to livantee there are sleeping bungalows made his the British Government for the bene it of trade agents. At Guartse there is a British trade agent who lives in a fort profited by 50 Indown scoops. and a he spant of the ladian Army, There is also a British Post Office, and an Indian doctor

Then literature represents the mediaval thought of India and is full fare shall be chargeable. of abstruse rataphysics. The lamas and priests wear high boots of cloth which lace up at the back long Aronsers and a long cost woven of vak häjr.

" The monks make their own gons for their army, which they form themselves They also make their own swords, which have two edges, but rifles are imported.

The women I met were robust and unveiled and wear skirts and bodices and tie their somewhat plentiful hair in a framework above their heads. They marry a whole Bayond 6th to 9th milefamily of brothers at the same time. "If there are 10 brothers in the family the decides to many, the woman marries them all I suppose it is because there are fewer women in Tibet than men. The courting is done in the ordinary go-between system of the East, but the Tiberan woman has a great deal to say in her [ Psoi choice of the family into which she will marry.

WEDDINGS IN TIBET.

"A wedding ceremony in Tibet is a complicated and curious affair. Ear in the morning of the wedding day the father and mother give a farewell banquet in the house of the bride. After the banquet the priest preaches to the bride, standing before her. Here and there in his sermon he in serts a story which deeply impresses the bride. When it is all over she leaves her father's house on horseback that is, of course, among the higher circles, and preceeds to the house of the bridegroom, where an imitation sword is thrown at her to intimidate evil spirits.

"Further ceremonies take place Winglok St., from Shanghai. and sour milk is brought out. After drinking t the bride is admitted. She marries the brother or brothers at the same time or at intervals, but some times the bride and her brothers-inlaw live together at their pleasure without having any formal ceremony to celebrate their weddings. In the best families care is taken to see that all the brothers are not at home at the same time. If one brother is at home the other absents himself.

TIBEIAN OPERA.

"The women have fine natural voices, and at Gyantse a Tibetan opera was performed in my honour. It lasted 5 or 6 hours. Famous actors and actresses from Lhassa with | tiania. a distinct type of beauty acted mythological scenes of the birth of Buddha in a previous life, in which he displayed wonderful liberality, giving away all his wealth to beggars.

"The men and women players sang all through the play, and the music of trumpets and drums was not disagreeable by any means. The costumes were weird, gorgeous, and wonderful. In the middle of the play pots of Tibetan barley beer were voices as well as the women. I believe imitation morphia appeared on the it is due to the climate.

"On my way back I stopped at a little school for boys and girls in charge of Mrs. McDouald. I asked her whisky such perfection has been and after a minute or so I realised the fraud is to drink some of the used to sing in our own schools, "This is the way we wash our hands' in Tibotan.

Considering the wonderful faculty for im tation that is shown in Japan, handed round. The men have good it is remarkable that only now has market, remarks the Japan Chronicle. It is said that in some brands of to make her little Tibetan pupils sing, reached that the only way to discover that they were singing the song we whisky-aratherdangerous procedure. Creme de Monthe is also so well imitated that it almost defice detection except by tasting -a less dangerous process than in the case of the whisky. But considering the enermous quantities of morphin, and the ANNIVERSARY GILLS fact that it is only imported for the purpose of emugaling into China, and the trade is subject to cruel/persoon. fien, it is surprising that so obvious a sliblect for count rielting has escaped attention so long.
